Literature

This week, we will work with Dr. King’s “I Have a Dream” speech. Next Monday, October 30, we will visit Kendal at Hanover to interview women about their experiences of raising their voices during the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. On Thursday, November 2, you will take the “Raising Our Voices” unit exam.

Composition

With your second major composition, you have a choice of topics! You may write about Jack London’s The Call of the Wild, Charlotte Perkins Gilman’s The Yellow Wallpaper, or both texts. Your polished compositions are due by the end of this week.

Grammar

Commas! Exercises 3 (p. 506), 4 (p. 508), and 5 (p. 510) are due on Wednesday, October 26. Please place this work in my mailbox by 8:10 a.m.

Vocabulary

M. Lechner will work with Chapter 4 on Monday, October 23. The chapter 3+4 test will take place on Monday, October 30, in composition class.

Character Education

On Monday, October 23, we will begin the “Benjamin Franklin Experiment.” Your homework: (1) finish reading Franklin’s essay; (2) select one virtue to work with this week; (3) compose a brief definition for that virtue; and (4) consider how you might reflect on and evaluate your progress. If you are finding that it is difficult to select a virtue, here is a list that might help you choose: <http://parents.wfu.edu/files/2015/08/8-3-15-24-character-strengths.jpg>. Please be honest with yourself. How can this experiment help you grow and learn this week?

Rh-ocab (for rhetoric)

Your next quiz will be held on Friday, October 27. For help please visit mr_glazer @ Quizlet: 7th: list for 10-27-17.
