

English 8
October 10 - 14, 2016
Teacher: Mr. Glazer

“Something wicked this way comes”
- Macbeth (IV.i.45)

Literature

We will spend the next two weeks working with Shakespeare’s Macbeth, a timeless tale of fate, ambition, greed, guilt, and tyranny.

10/10	10/11	10/12	10/13	10/14
NO SCHOOL	Macbeth # 1 Weird sisters & fate: “Fair is foul and foul is fair” (I.i.12).	NO CLASS	Grammar lesson ----- Macbeth # 2 Ambition, “a dagger of the mind” (II.i.38).	Spo-cab quiz ----- Macbeth # 3 Greed & guilt: “blood will have blood” (III.iv.122).

Composition

You will continue working on your second major essay of the year. You may choose from prompts reflecting on: (a) Elie Wiesel’s memoir Night; (b) Harper Lee’s novel To Kill a Mockingbird; or (c) three “Literary Responses to 20th Century History.”

Grammar

Mrs. Price will lead the next grammar lesson on Thursday, October 13.

Vocabulary

There will not be a vocabulary lesson this week.

Independent Reading & Writing

Reading logs will be collected on Tuesday, October 11.

Spo-cab

The next spo-cab quiz will be held on Friday, October 14. For help, please visit mr_glazer @ Quizlet: 8th: list for 10-14-16.

“Stars, hide your fires! Let not light see my black and deep desires.” (I.iv. 50-51)

“What is done cannot be undone.” (V.i.64)

Beelzebub	equivocate	Gorgon	harbinger	hurly-burly
knell	Macbeth	scruples	thane	weird