

FIFTH GRADE WEEKLY PLANS JAN.9-13, 2017 TEACHER: DR. FREEBERG

Virtue: Courage

Psalm: 23

Dear Parents,

This week students will begin to work on a three-minute persuasive speech promoting a particular non-profit organization. It would be helpful to talk to your child about a variety of non-profit organizations to help him or her choose an organization and cause to champion. On Monday students need to make a final choice of a non-profit organization to advocate for, and by Tuesday they should be sure to come to school with printed articles from which to take notes in class. This week in history students will review for a test on the Maya, Aztec, and Inca civilizations. In connection with their current study of Meso-American civilizations, students will also continue to review the present-day countries of Central and South America in preparation for a map quiz that will be given a week from Monday.

Sincerely,

Bruce Freeberg

Dates to Remember:

Wednesday: Reading Response Essay is Due

Thursday: Geography Quiz

Friday: History Test

Homework:

Monday: Finalize choice of non-profit organization and print articles;
Review for history test and geography quiz

Tuesday: Review for history test and geography quiz

Wednesday: Final review for geography quiz; Review for history test

Thursday: Final review for history test

Friday: Read lesson 1 on Feudal Japan and answer reading questions.

Bruce.Freeberg@crossroadsacademy.org Home phone: (802) 674-6836.