

FIFTH GRADE WEEKLY PLANS SEPT. 19-23, 2016 TEACHER: DR. FREEBERG

Virtues: Respect and Responsibility

Psalm: 15

Dear Parents,

Last week we began to read from a second version of The Odyssey, and this week we will read from a third version. We will not have reading response pages for these assignments, but students should continue to practice telling the story at home or on the ride to school. For our second composition assignment students will begin to write their own version of an episode from The Odyssey after reading multiple versions of the story. We will also begin several other final assignments on The Odyssey. First, students need to memorize and practice reciting the opening lines from The Odyssey. Second, students need to learn their part for an Odyssey skit that we will perform on grandparent's day, and third, students need to choose and begin to work on a final creative project on The Odyssey. This might be a game, a model, a video, or a graphic novel version of one or more episodes. I've reviewed these and other possibilities in class. Students need to choose a project by Thursday. In history we will continue our study of the Renaissance. I hope to see you at Back-to-School Night!

Sincerely,

Bruce Freeberg
